

Sprintplan was supposed to be done every week, the scrumboard was not enough. So we will immediately make one for week 4. And write a review for week 3.

Wolf gave us feedback on the code and said he liked our progress.

What to do with errors in database. Figure out in your own branch and then merge with no errors. We should not merge to master with errors.

Jordy asked about check style rules. We're allowed to change check style rules if it is within reason.

Deadline is most important, focus on that.
